WILSON OPPOSES TAFT PLAN OF COMPROMISE

BAKER HIT HARD; BUT LOCALS LOSE BY 6 TO 3 SCORE

LAWRENCEBURG WINS THE SEC-OND GAME AND THE SERIES.

F. Frohoff is the Star
GRAHAM RELIEVED BARNES
AND PITCHED GOOD BALL
OFF FOR TENNESSEE.

(By BARRETT SHELTON.)

The Lawrenceburg baseball team captured the third game from the Albany-Decatur ball tossers in an interesting contest at the Y. M. C. A. park on Wednesday afternoon, the count being 6 to 3 in the visitor's favor.

The Albany-Decatur outfit is the only team which has been able to take any games from the visitors, though the Lawrenceburgers have played the best city league teams in the south. The Twin City defenders have taken two contests and tied one on the Tennessee grounds. The game went for twelve innings, Cy Graham doing the heavy lifting.

In Wednesday's contest Allasio and McCullough starred with the willow, Allasio getting a triple and a single out of four times at bat and McCullough secured a single, a double and a triple out of five trips to the plate. Allasio's triple would have been an out but that Frohoff fell and the ball went for a safety.

E. Barnes attempted a comeback after his defeat of the second day, but the visitors again had his number and he retired with none out in the sixth in favor of Graham, who trounced the invaders in the first. R. Baker, who was on the hill for the victors, was touched for nine safeties, but fast fielding at the crucial moments gave him credit for the win.

Frohoff was the star of the game for the locals, making several good catches and throwing two out, one at the plate and the other at third base on perfect plays.

R. Baker struck out seven. The locals go to Lawrenceburg for a three game series the rest of this week and hope to get one out of three at least. There will be three games here next week with the fast Haleyville outfit. The game in detail:

First Inning
Allasio walked and was sacrificed to second by Hunter. Smith drove a liner far over E. Baker's head, but only got a single as he fell, rounding first base. Allasio scoring. Cook was safe on Halbrook's error and took second on Marbet's single. Smith scoring. Romine struck out. Huckaba whiffed. Two runs, three hits.

Roberts singled, Halbrook sacrificed; Frohoff flied to Huckaba; McDuff flied to center. No runs, one hit.

Second Inning
McCullough grounded out, Halbrook to Erwin; R. Baker lined to McDuff; Allasio tripled to right, Frohoff was under the ball but fell, the ball bounding to the right field wall. Hunter hit by E. Barnes, Allasio thrown out at third, F. Barnes to N. Baker. One hit, no runs.

N. Baker fanned; F. Barnes singled thru short; Erwin hit into a double death, Cook touched Barnes and threw Erwin out at first. One hit, no runs.

Third Inning
Smith flied to Frohoff, Frohoff making a wonderful running catch of the fly; Cook singled and stole second; Marbet singled to right, Cook being thrown out at the plate. Frohoff flied the ball perfectly and made a perfect peg to the plate. Romine flied to McDuff. Two hits, no runs.

E. Baker grounded out, Romine to Marbet; E. Barnes walked; Roberts flied to left, Halbrook hit to short and E. Barnes was forced, Hunter to Cook. No hits, no runs.

Fourth Inning
Huckaba singled to right, McCullough singled to right, Huckaba was thrown out by Frohoff at third. R. Baker flied to Frohoff, Allasio whiffed. Two hits, no runs.

Frohoff singled thru second; McDuff safe on Huckaba's error of his fly; Frohoff went to third when the throw in got past Cook; N. Baker poked one thru short, Frohoff scoring. Erwin struck out, E. Baker sin-

(International News Service.)

BERLIN, July 24.—Premier Gustave Adolph Bauer served emphatic notice upon the Pan-Germans in the national assembly at Weimar Wednesday that they can never overthrow the republican government in Germany.

"It is noteworthy that the gentlemen of the extreme right, at the very moment when the Hohenzollern empire lies dead, never again to be resurrected, have placed restoration of the monarchy as the foremost point on their program, and are ready to fight parliamentary government to the knife, but we are armed for the battle," declared the premier.

He said that his program included the socialization of German industries, as far as possible, and gave assurance that everyone would get food and clothing.

DAILY WILL BUILD MODERN PRINTING PLANT ON MOULTON

HANDSOME NEW HOME WILL BE READY EARLY THIS FALL.

Contract Already Let

PLANS WERE DRAWN BY O. B.
BREEDING, ARCHITECT OF BIRMINGHAM.

Contract was let today by The Albany-Decatur Daily to C. E. Malone for the construction of a handsome new home on Moulton street, on the lot next to the W. C. Yates tinning company. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy within 30 days. The plans were drawn by O. B. Breeding, a well known architect, of Birmingham.

The Daily's new home will be one of the most modern printing plants in cities of similar size in the entire South and will be built with a special consideration of lighting and ventilating facilities. It will be 50 by 135 feet, one story in height.

The business and editorial offices will face Moulton street on a level with the sidewalk. Behind the offices the composing, mailing and press rooms will be arranged on one floor, with a drop of six feet from the street level. The plant itself will be equipped with the monitor lighting and ventilating system, giving The Daily one of the best lighted and best ventilated composing rooms in the South.

Ornamental Front
The building will have an ornamental front, with large plate glass windows, and two entrances, one leading directly into the business offices and the other through a hall directly into the composing room. The front will be of buff pressed brick. It will be of Spanish architecture, with fluted tile eaves.

Inside, the entire floor space will be divided most conveniently for the business, advertising and editorial departments and rest rooms. From the main entrance, persons may go directly to either department without passing through any other, all of the offices opening on one main corridor. At the end of the corridor steps will lead to the composing room in the rear.

Special Arrangements
The paper room, press room, composing room and job stock rooms will all have concrete floors and special attention has been given to the lighting facilities. The building will have more glass area than floor space, a unique accomplishment.

Directly behind the front offices will be the job stock rooms and the shower baths and lockers for the use of the employees. Both will have outside ventilation, the composing room measuring five feet less in width on each side than the business offices, in order to allow the maximum of light in the mechanical department.

To the rear of the showers and job stock room will be the battery of typewriters and the make-up stones. Across the building will be the big Duplex press. In the rear will be the paper stock room in which will be housed the supply of newsprint rolls. On the other side of the building will be a room devoted entirely to the carrier boys. They will be given their papers through a window directly from the press room without having to come into the mechanical department. The paper stock room will be equipped with unusually large doors in order to facilitate the unloading from wagons and truck of the big rolls of white paper.

Modern Every Respect

The new home of The Daily is to be modern in every respect. The front

Ernest Claus, also arrested in connection with the case, has been released.

The grand jury has not yet completed its investigation of the double slaying, but is expected to make its final report Friday afternoon. In a partial report made today, 61 true bills were reported.

Burwell Graves, former chief of police of Cullman, has been appointed sheriff of the county by Governor Kilby to fill out the unexpired term of Sheriff Sparks. He has qualified for the office and will assume his new duties as soon as he receives his commission.

ANOTHER PISTOL DUEL

CULLMAN, Ala., July 24.—Dan Randall was seriously wounded in a pistol duel 13 miles from here today with Clarence Parker and his father.

Young Parker was slightly hurt. The three men met in a roadway, according to reports received here, and after words had been passed, Randall is said to have knocked the elder Parker down. Randall and the younger Parker then began shooting, Randall being hit in the shoulder and Parker in the leg. The two Parkers are here in the hands of the sheriff.

The shooting is said to have followed an old grudge. Some time ago Randall was indicted on a charge of cursing in the presence of the younger Parker's mother and the case was set for trial Friday.

PICKED BY PERSHING AS ONE OF THE HUNDRED GREATEST HEROES

PRIVATE FRANK STOCKTON

Private Frank Stockton son of Rev. and Mrs. J. I. Stockton, of near Albany, has been picked by General John J. Pershing as one of America's greatest heroes. In the August issue of the Ladies Home Journal, which is publishing the names and pictures of the 100 greatest heroes picked by General Pershing, the picture of young Stockton, who gave his life for another, occupies a conspicuous place. Following the signing of the armistice, the war department cabled General Pershing and asked him if he would undertake the task of choosing from the thousands of acts of heroism, the 100 acts he considered the most heroic. He replied that he would.

The Journal's story of Private Stockton follows:

"The heroisms of the stretcher bearers were not performed in the hot blood of men fighting for their own lives, but in the coolly calculated sacrifice of trying to win life for others. Private Stockton had been busy near Landress-et-St. Georges all the morning of October 14 in bringing in wounded soldiers. He learned that a man from another company was lying helpless in a shell hole, one hundred yards in advance of our line. Disregarding all warnings as to the danger involved, he and another stretcher bearer crawled out to the shell crater under violent fire from enemy machine guns. They found the wounded man so badly injured that he could only be carried on a litter. The sufferer tried to dissuade Stockton from taking further risks, but he was inflexible.

"He crept back to his company, secured a litter and advanced once more to the shell hole, in direct view of the enemy and under terrible fire from machine guns two hundred and fifty yards away. He got back to the shell hole in safety, but as he was placing the wounded man on the litter he was instantly killed."

WASHINGTON, July 24.—President Wilson was charged by Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Brandegee of Connecticut in the senate this afternoon with having failed to comply with a provision in the Franco-American-British pact of June 28 that it should be submitted to the senate at the same time as the treaty of Versailles. In support of this charge, Senator Lodge read from the Paris Figaro of July 3 what purported to be an official statement that the pact, which provided for the U. S. and Great Britain going to the aid of France in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany, was to be submitted to the senate for "advice and consent" at the same time that body received the treaty of Versailles.

The official statement further declares that four of the bandits who participated in the killing of John Carrell, an American, have been killed and that troops are now pursuing the murderers of the American, Catron.

MOONEY FAILED TO SECURE JUSTICE

That Thos. J. Mooney, the California labor leader, who was convicted of murder in connection with a bomb plot that marred a preparedness parade held in Frisco prior to the war, later sentenced to death, his sentence being commuted to life imprisonment through the efforts of President Wilson and many others, was not accorded a fair trial is very positively stated by John B. Densmore, a special agent of the U. S. Department of Labor, who conducted an investigation of the case. If Densmore is to be believed, and there is no reason why he should not be accorded full credit, Mooney received a raw deal and was "framed" by officers of the law who were under capitalistic influence.

"The plain truth is," Mr. Densmore says, "that there is nothing about the case to produce a feeling of confidence that the dignity and majesty of the law has been upheld. There is nowhere anything resembling consistency, the effect being a patchwork of incongruous makeshift and often to desperate expediency."

He goes further and alleges that the District attorney, who conducted the prosecution, was influenced by corporate interests "most bitterly opposed to union labor," and that the district attorney, after the principal witness had been proved a liar, proposed a new trial.

"And if any additional confirmation were needed of the inherent weakness of the case, the fact that Mrs. Mooney on July 27, 1917, and of Isabel Weiberg in the following October would seem to supply it," says Densmore.

Mr. Densmore has made out a strong case for Mooney, and his statements will have much weight with that part of the public that is neither pro-labor nor pro-capital. Every honest man believes in equal and exact justice, and opposes any form of official persecution, regardless of the issues or the prejudices involved. Mooney should have another and a fairer trial.

The Daily Times takes this occasion to again congratulate its friends and the general citizenship composing the cities of Albany and Decatur on their effort to have the present Alabama legislature consolidate those two splendid communities into one great throbbing city. It is the only thing to do.—Huntsville Daily Times.

NO WONDER CALIFORNIANS BOAST

(Washington Times.)

"Ripe Mission melons, five cents apiece."

"California plums, five cents a dozen!"

"Those are the calls of the street vendors. In them you hear the voice and see the sunshine of California brought to you across three thousand miles."

A good deal of good-natured fun has been poked at claims for the climate of the great Pacific State. The "native sons" have been thought over-insistent of the attractions of their homeland, but when the figures of this year's crops are read the wonder is that they are so modest.

Here are some of the stupendous figures for 1919:

Fifty thousand cars of oranges and lemons at twelve hundred and fifty dollars a carload.

Four hundred and fifty thousand tons of peaches at eighty dollars a ton. One hundred and thirty thousand tons of apricots at a hundred dollars a ton.

One hundred and twenty thousand tons of prunes at five hundred dollars a ton.

One hundred and ten thousand tons of pears at a hundred dollars a ton.

Two million five hundred thousand boxes of apples at three dollars a box. Twenty thousand cars of table grapes at twelve hundred and fifty dollars a car.

Six hundred thousand tons of wine grapes, for which thirty dollars a ton has been offered and refused, despite the prospect of prohibition.

Twenty-five thousand tons of walnuts at four hundred dollars a ton. Six thousand tons of almonds at five hundred dollars a ton.

Two hundred thousand tons of raisins at two hundred and twenty dollars a ton.

Small fruits, like cherries, plums, figs, and melons, about twenty million dollars, and olives and olive oil about ten million dollars.

These crops, with the exception of olives, are the largest in the history of the State and about twenty-five per cent greater than those for last year.

The total value of all the products of the soil and sunshine of California for this year will exceed three hundred and fifty millions of dollars.

Compare that, if you want, with the cotton crop of Texas, the corn crop of Illinois, the wheat crop of Kansas, the tobacco crop of Kentucky, and when you have equalized the acreage you will exclaim, with the sons of the Golden Gate, "Hail, California!"

This wonderful achievement has not been accomplished without an enterprise and a persistence that is characteristic of Californians.

They have brought fruit trees from all over the world. It was a woman who introduced the seedless orange from Brazil.

Hundreds of thousands of grape vines have been brought from France that the ones best adapted to the soil might be chosen.

Millions of dollars have been spent in fighting insect pests. When the citrus industry was threatened with total destruction the Ladybird from Australia saved it.

To transport the enormous products of the soil, the State has already spent $33,000,000 in the construction of the best automobile roads in the world, and on the first of this month the people voted 7 to 1 for another bond issue of $40,000,000 to further extend the motor highways.

No wonder that the enthusiasm born on the shores of the Pacific reaches to the coast of the Atlantic.

No wonder you can tell a Californian because he holds his shoulders a little straighter and his chin a little higher than anybody else.

No wonder he boasts. Who wouldn't?

Voice of the People

PROMINENT LABOR LEADER COMMENDS CONSOLIDATION

Albany-Decatur Daily:

Please allow me to say through the columns of your excellent paper, how favorably I was impressed with the recent citizen's meeting for consolidation of these cities. In the first place to note the spirit of harmony. Judge L. P. Troup made the only alteration in the entire bill as read. And this was not done in the spirit of fault-finding. His amendment was readily agreed to without a dissenting voice. Dr. W. P. Wilks thought so well of the bill that he called attention to fact that it could be used by other cities who desired to. There was certainly a representative crowd present, men drawn from all walks of life, from both Decatur and Albany. The bill certainly seemed fair to all concerned. The gentlemen who drew up the bill are beyond question as to their equity and good will toward any and all men. The chairman, J. H. Calvin, seemed only anxious to be absolutely fair to all in his rulings. I believe Monday night's meeting will go down in history as a very important one in the life of these cities. I felt better to have attended this assembly because the spirit of good will and peace to all men permeated each and every man present. We had in this meeting doctors of the law, of medicine and of theology. Organized labor and capital were well represented. The program of organized labor was touched on, as we believe in all the people having a say so and this is what the consolidation bill guarantees. I dare say there will be no adverse criticism of the bill either from those who oppose or favor consolidation. The ideas of Mr. Chenault and Dr. W. P. Wilks as brought out in their letters of some time ago are fully met. It seemed to me that the real objective of this meeting was not money making for anybody, but the unifying of the whole people of this community, and thus destroy the seeds of malice that are so apt to be sown at a time like this. From the standpoint of the churches, I am sure consolidation would make for righteousness, and to this end all ministers and church workers should be alive. It is just possible that I will be barred from a vote, but I am going to do all in my power to get a vote. In the mean time, I think it is the duty of all well wishers of the community to do all they can for its good as they see it, regardless of whether or not they have neglected their voting power.

HOW SHIVAR ALE RENEW'S HEALTH

New England Scientist Discovers the Secret of the Well-Known Health
Giving Properties of This Famous Southern Product

Dr. W. H. Morse, Consulting Scientist, Hartford, Conn., after careful analysis and experimentation, has discovered the scientific reasons for the well-known medicinal effects of Shivar Ale, a Southern mineral water product, whose health giving properties have won the favor of the medical profession, as well as the laity, throughout America.

Dr. Morse's attention was first attracted to this subject by own personal experience in the use of the Ale, and by his observation of its beneficial effects upon his patients, but not being contented to merely observe the results, he decided to find out the cause. His analysis and practical tests disclose the fact that Shivar Ale possesses marked beneficial effects upon the system in three relations, namely, digestion, nutrition and excretion. Dr. Morse finds that the Ale increases the flow of the digestive fluids namely, saliva, gastric juice and the pancreatic and intestinal juices, thus assisting weak stomachs in the digestion of all varieties of foods. It prepares the food completely for absorption and nutrition, thereby improving the health, strength and nourishment of the system as a whole, including the stomach itself, for the stomach is one of the first organs to suffer from the consequences of its own failure to properly digest food.

Dr. Morse further explains that in consequence of the perfect digestion and the increase of digestive fluids, the Ale corrects constipation, biliousness, headache, numerous forms of auto-intoxication, uric acid poisoning and many other disorders growing out of faulty digestion and faulty elimination.

ONLY ONE ARREST WHEN HISTORIC VERSAILLES TREATY WAS SIGNED; AN AMERICAN WITH $100,000 RUG

By ROBERT J. PREW,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 12 (by mail).—Only one arrest was made at Versailles the day the peace treaty was signed, and the victim was an American citizen of Armenian extraction, Thomas H. Kullujian, who is well known in San Francisco. The story of Kullujian's misadventure threw the only note of gaiety into an otherwise entirely solemn event.

A few hours before the treaty was to be signed, Kullujian succeeded in wresting from the French Foreign Office a permit to enter the grounds of the Versailles Palace and to take with him the $100,000 rug on which the Liberty Bell rested in the Persian section of the San Francisco Exposition, he having been director of the rug department of that section. Kullujian's first idea was to spread the carpet over the treaty table in the Hall of Mirrors, but M. Dutasta, the Secretary-General of the conference, frowned upon the suggestion, and after very, very long negotiations the American rug expert was allowed to lay down the carpet on the steps leading to the Court of Marble up which the delegates walked on their way to the Hall of Mirrors.

Having arranged with an odd-job man, in consideration of a fee of $30, to go along with him and lend a hand, Mr. Kullujian hired a taxicab for $10 to make the journey to Versailles, and the couple, looking oddly out of place amid the general display of silk hats and afternoon clothes, rushed into the Grand Courtyard of the Palace at 2:20 and spread the carpet on the steps just after M. Clemenceau had entered the Palace.

Then they stood aside to watch the plenipotentiaries arrive, but were immediately seized by Secret Service men as suspicious characters and hurried into the Versailles jail, while the police at the gates were formally reprimanded for admitting them.

"In about half an hour," said Kullujian afterward, "I managed to convince the police that I was not at the Palace to kill anyone and they finally agreed that I might go. But then they would not let me take my carpet away, and it is worth at least $100,000. They could not understand the historic value of the carpet, nor could they see how an outsider could bet. No hits, no runs.

Under the heading "The Spice of Life," the Literary Digest of this week joins several other national periodicals in advertising the Twin Cities. The Literary Digest publishes a paragraph reading "The latest fad. Bathing has become quite popular with the social set."

A mystery is connected with the paragraph as it is credited to the Albany, Ala., News-Argus. There is no such publication here, but there is a News-Argus printed in Albany, N. Y. Local people are wondering whether the Alabama city has become better known than the New York city.

THE QUINCY MANSION, QUINCY, MASS., BUILT IN 1685.

America's classic example of a clapboard building preserved for over two hundred years by careful and frequent painting. It has secret panels, chimney staircase and hiding places, said to have been used by smugglers. Later the home of great statesmen and of the famous belle, Dorothy Quincy.

SAVE THE SURFACE. Of all the many liquid substances which can be used for the binding of paint or dry substances which when dissolved in water are used as vehicles for pigments none fulfills necessary conditions so well as linseed oil, the king of the fixed oil, and, what is of enormous importance, it does it as cheaply. It is the painter's best friend because it makes his work satisfactory.

CHINA NOT LAND OF HUSTLE

Traveler in That Country Must Possess a Generous Amount of Patience and Tact.

Sooner or later, writes E. H. Wilson in "A Naturalist in Western China," the traveler in China must dispense with the comforts and luxuries of modern occidental methods of travel and adapt himself to those more primitive and decidedly less comfortable of the oriental.

In the regions with which we have to deal there is nothing in the nature of wheeled vehicular traffic save only the rude wheelbarrows in use on the Chengtu plain. There are no mule caravans, and scarcely a riding pony to be found. For overland travel there is the native sedan-chair and one's own legs; for river travel the native boat. Patience, tact and abundance of time are necessary and the would-be traveler lacking any of these essentials should seek lands where less primitive methods obtain. Endowed with the virtues mentioned, and having unlimited time at his disposal, he may travel anywhere and everywhere in China in safety, with considerable pleasure and abundant profit in knowledge. Whether industrious toiling millions, her old civilization, her enormous natural wealth and wondrous scenery, China alternately charms and fascinates, irritates and plunges into despair, all who sojourn long within her borders.

Elephants' Picnic.

An act not down on the program was given without charge the other day in the old seaport town of Marblehead, Mass., when four elephants of small circus, named with fine allied patriotism General Foch, General Pershing, General Haig and Princess Patricia, jumped a stone wall, escaped the circus and took to the woods. The personnel of the circus, acrobats, riders, clowns and canvasmen, followed, and so did many of the townspeople and half a dozen policemen, but the elephants made the woods first, and there they spent the day with "a large and appreciative audience" watching on the outskirts. Peanuts and bananas usually a temptation to elephants failed to entice them from their New England jungle; but as twilight fell and habit suggested feeding time, the big beasts came peacefully out of the woods and allowed the trainer and his assistants to lead them back to the circus grounds. And all Marblehead went home to belated suppers.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless. Advertisement.

HERD MANAGEMENT FOR BEGINNERS.

By K. G. Baker, Beef Cattle Specialist

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala. In discussing this subject, briefly various details will be taken up in the same order in which, according to the consensus of opinion of practical breeders, a beginner in the beef cattle business should consider them. The first consideration would be that of good and sufficient permanent pasture for the number of animals to be maintained. The improvement of the natural pasture should be looked after at the very beginning, so that the pasture may be made to furnish sufficient grazing for the pasture season. Find out the kind of grass especially suited to the locality, and the most practical way to get the pasture covered with them. Do not overstock the pasture, and keep weeds down by mowing or cutting with the hoe.

The next consideration should be the winter feed supply. Plan the cropping system that a minimum production of crops will always be ample to maintain the cattle through the winter. Plant the varieties of feed that will be the most economical when fed to beef cattle. Investigate the silo as a means for furnishing roughage for cattle; use all the unsalable products, such as corn stover, the aftermath of the hay field and unsalable hay.

Following this, a man should look to his equipment. He should have enough pasture well fenced to keep different grades of cattle separated, keeping young heifers in one, young steers in another, and the breeding herd in the third. Also have sufficient pens and shelter for these different classes of cattle in the winter. An open shed with a windbreak is sufficient for the protection of cattle in this climate.

As to the herd itself, if forced to buy cattle, buy as high grade individuals as possible, provided the price is not exorbitant. Usually for a small premium above market price, a grade of cattle can be bought which would make several generations to reach its grading up. If you already have native or scrub cattle, weed out and sell your poorer individuals. But in either case, always use pedigreed or registered bulls to sire your calf crop.

Other details that are worth mentioning are as follows:

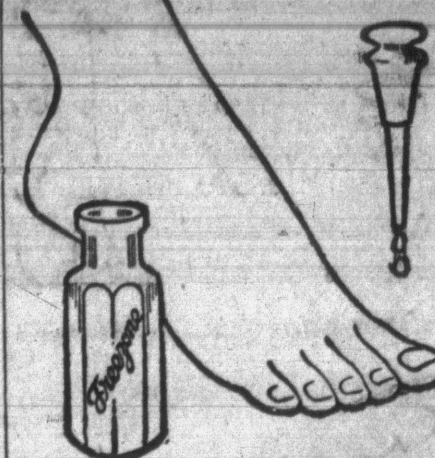

1. Do not breed heifers before they are two years old.
2. Confine your bull so that calves will come in the Spring, preferably March or April.
3. Dehorn and castrate calves when they are young.
4. Disturb cattle as little as possible by handling, but see them every few days.
5. Consult your Agricultural agent for help when confronted problems you cannot solve.

One Day at a Time.

Pile three hundred and sixty-five panes of transparent glass one upon the other and try to look through them. Nothing but inky blackness. Take from the pile one pane, look through it, and all is clear. Then as we face a time, with all its days piled one upon the other, all is darkness. Each morning, if we take off from the pile of days that one which comes first, we are enabled to see our duties clearly and live out our responsibilities faithfully. We cannot live the second day before the first or more than one day at a time.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers! You can can it on any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet. A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you lift that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one of pain or soreness. Truly! No imbug!—Advertisement.

BETTER CARE OF SWINE.

By J. C. Ford, Pig Club Agent.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

The club boys and farmers of Alabama are rapidly improving the quality of the hogs in the state and also the methods of feeding, but that is not all that is needed. Better care should be given to keep them as free as possible from lice, mange and worms.

If constantly irritated by lice, hogs will be restless and cannot make the best use of their food. Lice do not add to the appearance of the hog and there is no market for lice, even on the soft basis. They are a pest and a nuisance and should be fought at every turn.

Nearly any oil preparation will destroy lice and so will any coal tar dip, such as Kresol. If the manufacturer's directions are followed. Crude oil applied with a brush or spray or in a vat or wallow will also destroy them. Treating the hogs will do little good unless the beds are also cleaned.

There are two types of mange that bother hogs. Both are caused by skin parasites somewhat similar to mites that work into the skin. Red mange is very difficult to cure, but does not spread rapidly in the herd. If an animal can not be cured, it should be fattened and killed and the skin removed and burned. Scabby or black mange spreads more rapidly, but is not so difficult to cure.

Sulphur stirred into crude oil or a mixture of sulphur, kerosene and lard applied with a brush is a good mange remedy. It should be applied every 8 or 10 days until the trouble disappears. Lime-sulphur dip is also very effective. To make the dip, boil one pound unslaked lime and three pounds sulphur for two hours in two and one-half gallons of water. Strain and add warm water to make 12 1/2 gallons. Houses and pens must also be cleaned.

A man or a club boy who enjoys the company of red bugs or "chiggers" should make no effort to keep his hogs free from lice and mange.

Intestinal worms are doing even more damage to the swine industry of the state than lice and mange.

There are several kinds of these worms, but lack of space forbids their description separately. Here are a few:

MASONIC THEATRE GIVING

A DOUBLE SHOW TONIGHT

Big Feature Picture and Broadway Butterflies.

One of the best shows for the money, will be seen at the Masonic theatre tonight, when "The Broadway Butterflies" which has been playing to capacity business this week, present their feature bill, "Uncle Dudley" in addition to this, a big feature picture, "Honor's Cross" starring charming Rae Mitchell will be shown. "The Broadway Butterflies" has been pleasing large audiences all week and will no doubt do a record breaking business tonight. "Uncle Dudley" is a screaming funny farce comedy with new specialties and the picture alone is worth the price of admission.

Two Things He Remembered.

The proprietor and editor of a certain local paper had been indulging in a little plain talk and prophesying disaster to the little town if certain improvements and sanitary reforms were not forthwith adopted. A local parson sided with the rural council which neglected these things and after a sermon evidently pointed at the newspaper man, said: "You should remember the fate of Balaam." "I do," was the prompt reply from the pew, "and I also remember who it was that warned the prophet."

kind by eating grub worms from pastures that have been grazed a long time by hogs. Others are gotten by eating in dusty pens in which hogs have been kept for several weeks and by drinking muddy, stagnant water or wallowing in stagnant pools or mud holes.

Plowing up grass pastures occasionally, keeping the hogs out of dusty pens and away from filthy mud holes and stagnant pools and keeping them growing every day will usually prevent serious trouble from intestinal worms.

VIEW OF U. S. CAPITOL DURING PAINTING.

The dome of the United States Capitol at Washington is kept in excellent condition by painting it every few years. For this work forty painters are steadily employed for three months' time. Over five thousand gallons of paint are required for one coat. The reason for painting the Capitol dome at regular intervals is to prevent disintegration of metallic surface.
